> Linux Reviews > Games >

Classic Games
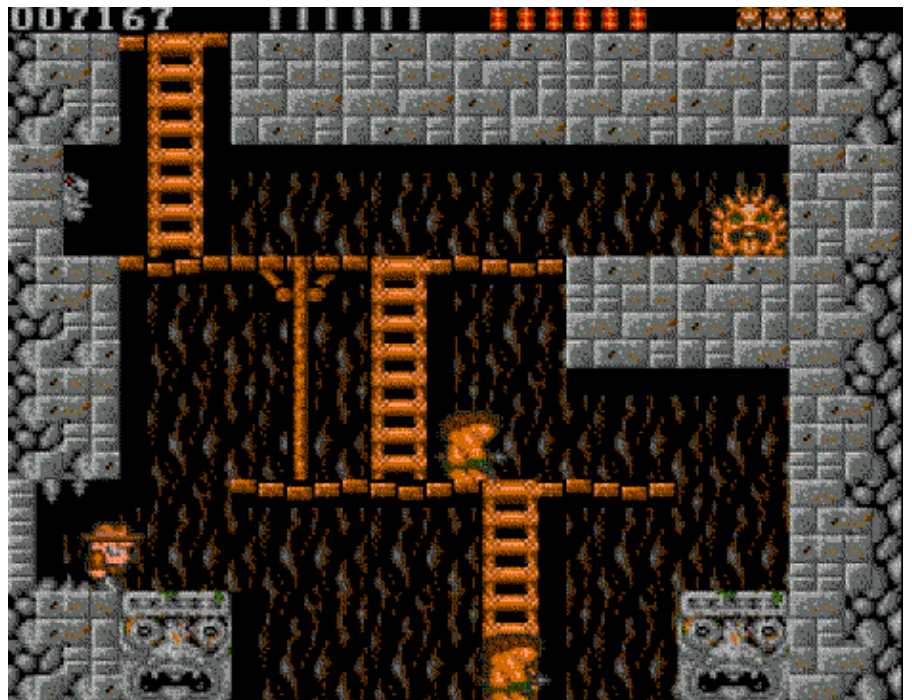

Classic Games v0.2, xiando

Old and forever great Linux games.

---

1. xrick

xrick is clone of the 80's game `Rick Dangerous`. It was very popular among C64 and Amiga users and is still a great game.

- Homepage: http://www.bigorno.net/xrick/
- Size: 1,609 kB
- Type: Arcade
- Requirements: x86, 100+ MHz
- Gentoo: `emerge games-arcade/xrick`

2. Chromium

Chromium is a classic "fly a spaceship and shoot everybody else" arcade game. Quite fun, quite entertaining.

- Homepage: http://www.reptilelabour.com/software/chromium
- Size: 1,710 kB
- Type: Action
- Requirements: 200+ MHz, decent gfx-card
- Gentoo: `games-action/chromium`

3. frozen-bubble

A simple game where the objective is to get all the frozen bubbles to fall down by hitting a cluster of bubbles with a bubble with the same color.

- Homepage: www.frozen-bubble.org
- Size: 7,149 kB
- Type: Arcade
- Requirements: x86, 100+ MHz
- Gentoo: `games-arcade/frozen-bubble`

4. xbomber

bigger image

xbomber is a Bomberman clone with multiplayer support.

- Homepage: http://www.xdr.com/dash/bomber.html
- Size: 387 kB
- Type: Arcade
- Requirements: x86, 100+ MHz
- Gentoo: `games-action/xbomber`

5. solarwolf

Your goal is to collect boxes and other objects while making sure your spareship is not shot down by the evil enemy.

- Homepage: http://www.pygame.org/shredwheat/solarwolf/
- Size: 1,997 kB
- Type: Space adventure
- Gentoo: `emerge games-arcade/solarwolf`

> Linux Reviews > Games >
Classic Games