

Creative Commons holds benefit concert in New York City September 21st (Linux Reviews)

> Linux Reviews > News and headlines > 2004 News archive > September >

Creative Commons holds benefit concert in New York City September 21st

LinuxReviews.org

Proceeds from the concert by David Byrne (with Tosca Strings) and Gilberto Gil will be used to support the non-profit efforts done by Creative Commons

Orchestra tickets are still available from Ticketmaster at $75.00.

Creative Commons is a non-profit organization dedicated to creating public goods in the form of work done under their various "Some Rights Reserved" licenses. Their licenses allow you legally copyright and own your work while still allowing other to use it and benefit from it under the generally loose terms of the license of your choice.

Check out the repositories and directories of Creative Commons licensed works where you can find a huge variety of open-licensed material.

- You can read more about the concert in their weblog: Wired presents a Creative Commons benefit in NYC, Sept 21st

> Linux Reviews > News and headlines > 2004 News archive > September >

Creative Commons holds benefit concert in New York City September 21st