

Do NOT upgrade to Opera 8

LinuxReviews.org

Jon S. von Tetzchner, CEO, Opera Software, has proclaimed that he will swim from Norway to USA with only one stop-over for a cup of hot chocolate in Iceland if the new version 8 of the Opera web browser does not reach 1 million downloads within the first four days of the launch.

You can make this happen by waiting five days before upgrading to the latest version of the fastest multi-platform web browser on the net. The new version of Opera has already been downloaded more than 600.000 times, so you downloading the new version will contribute to the world missing out potentially great entertainment.

> Linux Reviews > News and headlines > 2005 News archive > April >
Do NOT upgrade to Opera 8